At General Synod / Te Hinota Whanui 2010, unanimous support was given to develop a Human Resources support package that would be available for all Rohe and ministry units, for use in the recruitment and employment of Lay staff. People matter, and the vision was for the Anglican Church in Aotearoa, New Zealand (aware that Polynesia had different laws regarding employment) to exercise better than best employment practice. This package, the result of two years of prayerful, careful research, offers a step-by-step process to aid in the recruitment, employment and on-going review and support of Lay staff in a Church environment.

We commend this Human Resources package, and encourage the development of excellence in all matters of lay staff employment.
